

Fall 2012 Schedule

May 17, 2012

Pre-Sociology

Philosophy of Mind
Sex | Death | Religion
Lang, Gender, Power
D/R Subcultural Masculinity

Want to take: 18 hours
Allowed to take: 12 hours
Should rationally take: 9 hours

w/Sociology

Philosophy of Mind
Sex, Death, Religion
Language, Gender, Power
D/R Subcultural Masculinity
Pro-seminar in Sociology
Advanced Quantitative Methods

(All of those courses must fit in this box)

[this box is 12 hrs / 4 courses]

Philosophy of Mind: + counts toward CogSci certificate
+ 2 friends in class
+ really interested in material
- same time as Adv. Quant. Methods

Sex | Death | Religion: + 3 friends in class
+ Useful toward thesis research (gay option)
+ Personal Interest in Material
- Does NOT count toward a program

Language, Gender, Power: + counts toward WGST certificate
+ Potentially 1 friend in class
- Tired of Foucault (and Butler, but mostly Foucault)
+ Loyalty to instructor
Originally added for MALS

Directed Readings: + Personal Research Project
+ Commitment made to Dr. James *
+ Useful toward thesis (deviant option)
- Not Required for program
- Problems getting administrative side handled
Would be first student to take course

Pro-Seminar: + Required for MA Sociology
+ First class with full cohort
+ Introduction to faculty (thesis committee, departmental) and
- Somewhat inconvenient time

Advanced Quant. Meth.: + Required for MA Sociology
- Course sounds boring
- Not in pre-requisite chain (may be delayed)

Logical Schedule

D/R: Prior commitment and work begun on both sides

Pro-Seminar: I need to meet my cohort and be introduced to my department.

Philosophy of Mind: Course is of immediate interest, especially the components of free-will and emotion.

Sex | Death | Religion: Every schedule needs a fun course. Chris and Jessica are in the class, it covers major areas of philosophical interest. As a bonus, it is hybrid grad/undergrad, so it should be simple.